POSITION: PROGRAM MANAGER

Organizational Description

Started in 2008, African Career, Education & Resources (ACER) started to bring the collective community together to discuss issues and concerns impacting the African immigrant and refugee communities. It was quickly understood that in order to tackle issues and concerns, the community needed to address root causes of the challenges facing the community.

ACER believes African immigrants understand complex issues and know their communities best. They elevate the voices of the community and build bridges between residents and policy-makers so that they are represented at all levels of the advocacy process. ACER builds community through four impact areas:

- Civic Engagement
- Economic Development
- Health Equity
- Housing Justice

Mission: ACER is the leading issue-based community organization working to uplift and amplify the African Diaspora to build power for systemic change that advances racial and economic equity in our communities.

Values: Our vision is a transformed system, free from racial and economic inequities where African Diaspora communities can thrive and lead prosperous lives.

Organizational Culture

In a transformative organization, ACER believes that the overall strategies should be owned by every single person in ACER. As such, it is the responsibility of all staff to understand the overall mission, vision and direction of the organization. One must be accountable to their own work and responsibilities, while supporting and coaching each other to produce high impactful and innovative strategies for the overall success of the organization. This means taking ownership of the organization as a whole. Which means that up to 20% of your role may include stepping up, taking charge, rolling up your sleeves and supporting other impact areas in the organization, understanding that organizing and transformational work must happen at all levels for justice to occur.

Position Overview

ACER seeks an impactful Program Manager to oversee the strategic direction of all programs and services associated with a particular impact area. The Program Manager will lead the planning, execution, development, and evaluation of programs and services, ensuring programs and services are quality, community driven, equitable, and represent the multicultural communities of the people it represents. The Program Manager should be able to tell the stories of the community, collect qualitative and quantitative data to ensure the organization is making an impact on the community. Additionally, the Program Manager is responsible and accountable to all program outcomes and expectations as it relates to funders guidelines. This position reports directly to the Associates Director.

The focus of this Program Manager will be under the Social Justice impact area. In this area, Program Manager is responsible for cultivating, supporting, guiding, and coaching community members, partner organizations, residents, and/or stakeholders on issues and concerns impacting the community. This can be in the areas of transportation, green and environmental justice, health, education reform, and civic engagement. It is the responsibility of Program Managers to create programs and services that will support the needs of the community and facilitate training and sessions to push forward movements that will change policies and create social change. Program Managers will often time utilize Powerbase to enter data and case note as to utilize these data to drive decisions. Program Managers will be transformative and high impactful, taking initiatives in creating change for the organization and community members.
